

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN

MANY QUESTIONS PUT TO HELENA

Location of Different Priced Seats is Explained—D. A. R. Serves Lunches.

414 Helena Cleudenen.

Tonight at 7:30 the curtain—first figurative curtain—rises on the first presentation of the great historical pageant at Springbrook park, and I have been requested by several people to answer their questions.

1. Do you have to pay admission to the park as well as to a seat?
2. Where are the different priced seats located?

Answering No. 1:
You do not have to pay admission to the park. The ticket you purchase admits you to the grounds and to your seat.

In reply to No. 2:
The 2¢ seats are in the boxes; the 1¢ seats in the covered grandstand; the 50-cent and 75-cent seats on the bleachers, but every ticket calls for a comfortable chair.

Wants All Automobiles.

My columns seem to be in special demand today. A. H. Cushing, director of the automobile parade, to move at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, asks me to announce for him his urgent invitation that every automobile in St. Joseph county join in the parade, whether it is decorated or not.

Then I am called upon by an inquirer who wants to know why the South Bend chapter of the D. A. R. is not taking a more prominent part in the centennial.

All I know about it is what I have come by on good authority. The regent, Mrs. Nelson L. Jones, has informed me:

"Our chapter is such a young organization, we felt that what we had to do would better be done in a quiet way."

The quiet way is the giving of dainty lunches in rooms taken for centennial week, in the Farmers Trust building, corner of Main and Jefferson streets, where you are surrounded by the real colonial atmosphere obtained by the furnishings of the revolutionary period and especially by the collection of priceless antiques loaned for the occasion.

The reception committee is composed of Mesdames Nelson L. Jones, Charles Francis, George Alward, Elmer Daley, Charles Coen, Frank Hatch and Joseph Paxton.

At Nominal Price.

"The lunches are served for a nominal price of 15 cents," Mrs. Jones further informed me, "and all we make shall be used to swell the fund we send every year to help educate the mountain children of the revolutionary period. We are co-operating with the Rev. J. A. Burns of the Oneida Baptist Institute of Oneida, Ky., who is working hard to bring education where, as Emerson Hough says, 'there are no schools because there are no roads; no roads because there are no taxes; no taxes because there is no money.'"

"You see," concluded Mrs. Jones, "we really fight, though in a small way, as something more than a mere social organization. If we had been more important we might have made of our historical markings an event of centennial week. We marked the graves of two revolutionary soldiers—Peter Root and Isaac Ross—who are buried in the city cemetery. The event, however, would have scarcely been ranked in interest with the marking of the sites of the Schuyler Colfax home."

The Schuyler Colfax memorial tablet is in place, embedded in the concrete of the parkway at the northwest corner of Colfax avenue and Taylor street. It is an artistic creation—the product of J. H. Woodward of the Peerless Pattern works—whose labor has been given as a contribution to the centennial celebration. The bronze quadrangle, with its clear-cut inscription, attracts the attention of every passer-by, and the event of its dedication will doubtless bring a throng of sightseers tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Schuyler Colfax, son of our city and will be present at the dedication.

DEATHS

MRS. CATHERINE O'GARA.

Word was received in the city Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Catherine O'Gara, who died Monday at her home in Lafayette, Ind. Mrs. O'Gara had been ill for the past two weeks and was 86 years old at the time of her death. She was a sister of Mrs. Rose Butler, 204 S. Scott st., and also of the late Patrick Sheehey, and was well known in the city. Mrs. Mary Butler, Mrs. William Kelly, Mrs. K. Sheehey, Charles Sheehey and William Butler left Tuesday for Lafayette to attend the funeral.

FUNERALS

MRS. SOPHIA BECKER.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sophia Becker, 864 N. Hill st., who died Monday morning, following an illness of 10 weeks, will be held from St. Joseph's Catholic church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. P. J. Carroll, C. S. C., officiating. Burial will be in Cedar Grove cemetery.

FOUR COUPLES ARE MARRIED AT ST. JOE

Friends of Ralph Essex Get Even For His Fake Telegram.

Give Him Ride.

St. Joseph, the Gretia Green of Michigan, still proves to be an attraction for eloping couples from South Bend. Marriage licenses to the number of four were issued to as many South Bend couples within the last three days. One pair of newlyweds was hilariously greeted when they arrived in South Bend this morning.

Ralph Essex, 21 years old, chauffeur for the Ward taxi line of this city, and Helen Van Arsdale, 18 years old, also of South Bend, who eloped to St. Joseph Saturday, were the victims of the mirth of their friends Tuesday morning. Employees of the Ward taxi line with which Essex is connected, gave the young couple a free ride down Main st. in a two-wheeled car, which was attached behind a taxi cab. An empty five-gallon can fastened to the car by a cord, dragged unceremoniously behind, while a sign painted on the side of the car conveyed the information that they were "just married." Essex sent himself a fake telegram Friday to the effect that his mother was ill and that he should come at once. Saturday morning Essex and his bride-to-be boarded a car for St. Joseph and in a few hours the ceremony was performed.

Other licenses were granted to August H. Peters, 20, foreman, and Lillian R. Williams, both of South Bend; James Singleton, 35, South Bend, and Laura Miller, South Bend; and Samuel Dore, 23, and Cleo Martin, 25, also of South Bend.

ONE AUTOIST IS FINED

Lotta Walkowski is Found Guilty of Speeding His Car.

Lotta Walkowski accepted and paid a fine of $1 and costs for exceeding the speed limit. The court was more lenient with Edward Ward and suspended his fine of the same amount for operating an automobile without a license.

Upon her promise to do better in the future, following her assurances that she was not a regular drinker, Florence Arnold was given a suspended sentence of $1 and costs after pleading guilty to charges of intoxication.

Frank Farnestock also got a suspended sentence on similar charges on the condition that he go to work. Judgment of $1 and costs was rendered against Frank Brown and W. J. Niel, arrested for drunkenness.

ADDRESSES REALTY MEN

A. J. Hickey of Laporte Speaks at Luncheon at Y. M. C. A.

Andrew J. Hickey of Laporte, republican candidate for congress from the 13th Indiana congressional district, addressed the realty board of South Bend at its regular weekly luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Hickey spoke on "The Laporte County Lands," stating the improvements brought about and giving much of the credit for the increase in the value of the land to the real estate dealers.

Reports were made by the heads of the different committees and plans discussed for the entertainment of the state who are making a tour of Indiana for the purpose of learning the methods of the different boards. Mr. E. G. Case presided at the meeting.

RAILROAD MEN HERE

Vandalia Officials Inspect South Bend End of Line.

T. B. Hamilton of St. Louis, general manager of the Vandalia Railroad Co., J. H. Patterson of Lonsport, division superintendent, P. H. Collins of Lonsport, assistant road foreman of engines of the Michigan division, and several other officials of the company were in South Bend Tuesday. The men are making an inspection of the road in the general manager's private car.

Butte, Mont., will be the first western city to receive a supply of new dining quarters and half dollars now being minted.

MONTHS OF WORK BEHIND PAGEANT

Mrs. W. K. Lampport Who Wrote Story Found More Than Enough Material.

St. Joseph county's splendid historical pageant marks the climax of months of strenuous work for a small group of South Bend people upon whom the responsibility for the mammoth production was thrust.

Way back in January, long before enthusiasm over the centennial celebration had been aroused, and hence long before understanding assistance was easy to obtain, Mrs. W. K. Lampport, chairman of the pageant writing committee, began the task of writing the pageant scenario. Just how stupendous a task that was no one will be able to appreciate except those who were most closely associated with Mrs. Lampport in the work.

The fact that St. Joseph county is rich in picturesque historical data proved to be both a help and a hindrance; it furnished not only much material, but too much. The task of cutting out proved to be much more difficult than the task of putting in.

Scene after scene which had been thoughtfully selected, were then fully written, had to be blue-pencilled in the end in order to prevent tediousness at the time of production.

Mrs. Lampport was ably assisted in gathering the material by a large committee, but most of the writing she did herself. A number of original songs and poems were contributed upon request, and the work of the committee was a most attractive volume which is to be sold for a nominal sum as a souvenir of the centennial.

Then, after the pageant was written, came the second stupendous task of staging it. That fell very largely to the lot of F. B. Barnes, pageant master. Henry B. Roney of Chicago was sought to the city to take charge of the musical and the dramatic side of the production, the organization of the immense cast, and the general supervision of the properties. Mr. Barnes has been responsible for.

Organization after organization was enlisted in the cause by Mr. Barnes' perseverance and many a time during the past few months when failure of the whole undertaking seemed imminent, his perennial optimism and perseverance saved the day.

During the past few weeks Mr. Barnes has been assisted ably in drilling the cast by Miller Hamilton of South Bend and Prof. Emmet Leinham of Notre Dame. Both young men have had experience in dramatics and both have done excellent work with the pageant cast. They have supplied the "pep" without which the production would have dragged miserably—and they have supplied that "pep" in spite of the fact that they have been kept up night and day to do it.

COST OF RESURFACING STREET TO BE $6,100

City Engineer Files Report on Petition For Laporte Av. Improvement.

Estimates were presented at the meeting of the board of public works Tuesday morning by City Engineer Anderson, placing the cost of the resurfacing of Laporte av. at $6,100. The surface of the avenue is in bad condition and is in great need of repairs.

The matter will come up before the regular meeting of the board Tuesday night.

A petition of property owners and residents was received asking that a brick pavement be laid on Portage ct. from Portage av. to Ashland. This was referred to the city engineer.

According to the monthly report of the building department, 117 buildings to the estimated value of $192,731 were licensed during the month of September. This compares very favorably with the report of September, 1915, which gave as a grand total only $38,607, as the estimated cost of 29 buildings. The assessment roll for the paving of the two alleys included within the square of Michigan st., Madison st., Main st. and Laskie av. will be heard at the regular meeting Tuesday night. Hearings will also be held on the assessment roll for water connections of Jacquith ct. for a pipe sewer on Orchard st. and Kendall st. and on the resolution for a pipe sewer on Dale av.

SET DAY FOR FIRST GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The first two games of the world's series between the Boston Red Sox and the Cincinnati Reds will be played in Boston on Saturday, Oct. 7 and Monday, Oct. 9.

The national baseball commission, which met here today made this decision. The third and fourth games will be played in either Brooklyn or Philadelphia, according to which team wins, on Tuesday, Oct. 10 and Wednesday, Oct. 11. The fifth game will be played Thursday at Boston, the sixth at either Brooklyn or Philadelphia, and the seventh, if necessary, will be played after the winners of the victorious teams have flipped a coin for the honor.

LOITERERS ARE FINED

Three Sent to Jail when They Fail to Meet Assessment.

Three loiterers plead guilty before the city court Tuesday morning and all received sentences of $1 and costs. The men, Peter Johnson, Eugene Riley and Frank Colby, all admitted their guilt to the court but each in turn strove to do some individual pleading.

Though the pleadings were appeals of amateurs, no doubt, Judge Warner seemed impressed with the fact that they were not novices and so he abridges their sentences to $1 and costs. The men were all confined in the county jail.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU GOT JOBS FOR 4,199

Report For Fiscal Year Ending Oct. 1 Shows a Big Demand For Labor in City.

Yearly reports rendered by Frank J. Murphy, superintendent of the South Bend branch of the Indiana free employment agency, show that of the 5,791 men and women who applied for positions at the local agency during the year from Oct. 1, 1915, until Oct. 1, 1916, 4,199 were placed in various positions. Of that number 3,582 were males and the other 617, females. Males to the number of 4,874 made application for employment and application was also made by 827 females.

Applications from different sources for help amounted to 7,815, while the local agency was only able to supply 1,438 males and females. The positions could have readily been filled if more applications had been received.

The report for the month of September shows that there were 332 applications for employment and that of these, 311 were placed. In all 272 men were given positions and 39 women. Applications for help during the month totaled 767.

Mr. Murphy at present needs men for road work, but as yet he has not received many applications.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight the great historical pageant which will include more than 1,000 actors along with a chorus of 6,000 voices, will be given for the first time at Springbrook park. The pageant was rehearsed Monday night for the last time and the directors were satisfied with the promises for tonight's performance. All is ready at Springbrook for the production of the pageant and a huge crowd is anticipated when the prologue opens at 7:30 o'clock. Months of work have been expended on this event which promises to excel that of any other celebration in the state.

The program for Wednesday includes the automobile tour of the surrounding country, which will start from the Oliver hotel at 7 o'clock; the morning visits to the grammar and high schools of the city; dedication of the tablet designating the site of the home of Schuyler Colfax, former vice president of the United States, at 10 o'clock; automobile parade at 1:30 o'clock; band concert at 2 o'clock; and high school alumni tea and reunion at the high school building at 5 o'clock.

Senators Kern and Taggart Are Booked to Deliver Address on Oct. 20.

Announcement was made Tuesday from democratic headquarters that William G. McAdoo, secretary of the United States treasury would speak in South Bend on Friday, Oct. 13. This was the word sent to the local headquarters from state leaders along with the announcement that United States Sen. John W. Kern and Thomas T. Taggart, both candidates for reelection, would be the principal speakers at a meeting to be held here on Friday, Oct. 20, a week later.

Plans for the McAdoo and Kern-Taggart meetings have not been arranged as yet but the democrats are expecting to attract big crowds at both gatherings. Next Wednesday night, Evan B. Stansbury, one of the best informed men on state affairs, and attorney-general of Indiana, will speak at the Elks temple, giving answer to the charges of extravagance as made by Jim Goodrich, republican nominee for governor.

There will be a meeting at Maenachin hall tonight which will be attended by all democratic candidates. William A. McInerney will be the principal speaker of the evening and expects to devote the greater share of his discussion to county and state affairs. Some of the candidates will make short talks. A large attendance from the fourth ward is expected at this meeting.

According to the schedule John A. M. Adair, candidate for governor, will be in South Bend on the night of Oct. 27, when a big rally will be staged by the democrats while another big meeting will be held on Saturday night preceding the election on Nov. 7.

WILL INSPECT HIGHWAY

Commerce Chamber Hopes to Aid in Road Improvement.

In pursuance of the suggestion of the Mishawaka office of The News-Times, the South Bend Chamber of Commerce has decided to investigate the construction of Lincoln highway, the building of which is being held up between Mishawaka and Elkhart, in the hope that some assistance may be rendered to the contractors. A committee is being appointed which will make a trip to the site of the construction work on Wednesday morning, if possible, and will endeavor to get at the root of the trouble that is delaying the work.

The great automobile parade which will start at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon is expected to be one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind ever held in Indiana. Hundreds of automobile owners have been spending much time in preparing for the event and the decorations will exceed any ever seen here before. The parade will start at 1:30 o'clock from the corner of Washington av. and Main st. shortly before 10 o'clock and then march to the site of the ceremonies.

FOUNDER OF LODGE

Schuyler Colfax was the founder of the Rebekah degree of the I. O. O. F., a charter member, and the first president of the organization. Since founded by Mr. Colfax the organization has grown to be the largest and most active in the country. When the founder first broached the woman's degree in 1850, the proposition met with considerable opposition, but he finally succeeded in securing the appointment of a committee to organize the order. He became nationally known through his efforts in a fraternal way, both for the Rebekahs and the Odd Fellows, and here became vice president of the United States.

The great automobile parade which will start at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon is expected to be one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind ever held in Indiana. Hundreds of automobile owners have been spending much time in preparing for the event and the decorations will exceed any ever seen here before. The parade will start at 1:30 o'clock from the corner of Washington av. and Main st. shortly before 10 o'clock and then march to the site of the ceremonies.
